DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 28 is objected to because of the following informalities:

Please clarify what "it" is referring to.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-14 and 18-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The phases "additional information element" in the claims are unclear. It is vague and indefinite to the examiner what the applicant is intending to describe of the additional information element, that is, the additional element part is a part of the first information code/element or different set of element/code.

Clarification and correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 21-25 and 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lawandy (US 2003/0141375).

Lawandy teaches a barcode on an object (10) such as product comprising a first barcode (125) serving as a plurality of marks and a watermarked background (125A) and a second barcode (126) serving as an interference mark that has different optical characteristics, such that the first barcode can be printed using the ink that only readable under the infrared region, and the watermarked background can prohibit the copy of the barcode (see figs. 1-4; paragraphs 0035-0051).

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 15-17 are allowed.
7. Claims 26-28 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
8. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: None of prior art teaches a method of coding comprising coding of additional information element in the information code by allocation a value to at least one of the plurality of marks which value indicates that the mark is to be omitted during the application of information code on a product and the information code comprises a plurality of reference position wherein each plurality of marks is associated with the reference positions and each information element is coded by a set of predetermined number of reference position with associated marks.

Additional Remarks

9. The lack of an art rejection with this Office action is not an indication of allowable subject matter (i.e., even though the claims 1-14 and 29 are rewritten or amended to overcome the Claim rejections as discussed above). The disclosure/claimed language is such that it is impractical to conduct a reasonable search of the prior art by the Examiner.
